WELCOME TO HUA - HIN

As Governor of Prachuabkhirikhan Province and on behalf of the people of this province, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the Hua Hin Beach Resort Area.

Hua Hin is renown throughout Thailand for its pristine beaches, lively nightlife, comfortable surroundings and secured resorts. It's seaside palaces have long been the favorite vacation spot of both Kings and Princes.

Let Hua Hin be the site of your private get-away. Its convenient location from Bangkok makes it the favorite for day and weekend trips.

Come and experience the Beauty of Prachuab.

Sincerely,

HISTORICAL PROFILE

Just shortly after World War I, the Southern Railroad was built to give people chance to travel overland in comfort all the way to the Malaysian border. Since then, the spacious beaches of Hua Hin have enjoyed a solid reputation as "The famous seaside resort of Siam" where visitors could enjoy not only swimming and fishing but also golf on the country's first standard course.

Hua Hin's rise came with the opening of the Railway Hotel, built by Prince Purachatra, the Director General of the State Railways, after the Southern line was completed. It was an elegant Victorian structure on the shore with vast rooms, private verandah, fancy fretwork decoration and wickerwork chairs in the lounge. There was a formal garden containing topiary, and not far away, an excellent golf course with meticulously tended greens.

Soon afterwards the elite of Bangkok society began flocking to Hua Hin, at first to stay in the hotel and later in bungalows they built along the beach. One of them Princess Chumbhot of Nakorn Sawan, recalls that the first of the holiday palaces was called Saen Samran

House and belonged to Prince Nares, a son of King Chulalongkorn. Not far down the shore was a sizeable compound belonging to the Prince of Chandaburi. Prince Chakrabongse built a complex of bungalows, together with a Victorian-style gazebo on a scenic group of rocks near Hua Hin Village and this place, later, was selected to play a supporting role in the film "The Devil's Paradise" as well as the Railway Hotel which portrayed Phnom Penh's leading hotel in the hectic days just before that city's fall in the film "The Killing Fields".

Princess Chumbhot was a lady in waiting to Queen Rombhai Barni and remembers being one of a royal party which spent several weeks at Prince Nares's palace in 1926. His Majesty King Prajadhipok was there to plan a summer palace on the beach, designed by one of Prince Nares' sons; completed shortly afterwards, the palace was named Khai Kangwon, which means "Far From Worries."

Nowadays, among changes, the simple ways of the world, Hua Hin's pleasures are still placid, not all that different, indeed, from those enjoyed by the aristocratic visitors of its past.

That's Hua Hin-the charming resort town with the sense of history and the peaceful but scenic atmosphere.....
That's beloved Hua Hin-the Queen of tranquillity.

TOURIST ATTRACTION

Hua Hin has remained Thailand's charming resort on the southern coast for longer than 60 years, offering the very best of healthy marine climate, beautiful beaches and tranquil atmosphere.

Being the country's oldest seaside resort town, Hua Hin is perfect for family outings as it offers many activities to fit the needs of all family members. There is the sunrise over the Gulf. There are swimming and sunbathing and perhaps a ride on one of the jauty little ponies for hire along Hua-Hin beach. There is a leisurely stroll to the southern end of the beach, dominated by a picturesque Khao Takiab Hill with a Buddhist temple on top. There is also Khao Krilas Hill which offers, a spectacular view of the surrounding coast.

About 9 kilometres from town lie Suan Son and Khao Tao Hill. One can enjoy lounging lazily at Suan Son where the white sandy beach is lined with tall pine trees while Khao Tao Hill provides the same nice beach and some local handmade products. Fishing lovers can enjoy a day's or half day's outing to Singtoh Island, just a few kilometres from Hua Hin or Khao Takiab Beaches where some boats for hire are available.

Hua Hin has also one of the best standard golf course in the country called The Royal Golf Course where has been famous for 60 years.

In the evening, one can wander over to the fishing pier and watch the return of the fishing boats from their daily run, an always fascinating scene with great baskets of fish being unloaded and distributed to buyers under theatrical floodlights.

For these popular attractions, tourists can easily reach in short just by local transportation such as local buses, minibuses, tricycles, bicycles or even by walking along the beach but for those who want something besides beaches, there are Dao, Lablae and Kallon Caves about 33 kilometres west of Hua Hin on Nong Phlab Route. Hiring a minibus, for a half day trip is the easiest way to see those caves with exotic limestones.

Plus, for adventurers who love trekking and hikking, Karen Villages and Pa la-u Waterfall are the place. They hide themselves in an unspoilt forest in the west of Hua Hin. Contacting the sub forestry office at Pa la-u Reservoir about 65 kilometres west of Hua Hin is needed.

HUA HIN AT A GLANCE

As Thailand's first seaside resort town, tourism has had very little effect on the local culture and genuine way of life. Hua Hin remains a place of calmness and charm, surrounded by unspoilt jungle.

Over several decades, as the Royal summer residence, Hua Hin has enjoyed the fame of warm sunrise on the Gulf of Thailand, peaceful sandy beaches, superb seafood, juicy pineapples, authentic hand-made souvenir from natural products...and now, from recent discoveries, scenic jungle with attractive caves and vivid waterfalls in the area of Tanaosri Range, Thailand's west border line to Burma.

With a total area of approximately 911 square kilometres, Hua Hin locates about 92 kilometres north of Prachuabkhirikhan, her own provincial town and about 185 kilometres south of Bangkok. The current population is estimated to be 56,982 of 19,861 family houses (September 1987)

Certainly, Hua Hin possesses a tropical climate with a rather high degree of humidity. There are three seasons, the hot season (March-May), the rainy season (June-October) and the cool season (November-February).

Locates on the ocean coast, monsoon time should be considered as it is the period recommended to tourists not to travel out to the sea especially from the afternoon to the evening. Hua Hin monsoon season ranges from November to February, anyway, because the Gulf is in the sea, the sea wind is actually not too strong.

Buddhism is the main religion but others are available. There are all 42 temples and religious places in Hua Hin. Some are the town's major attractions such as Takiab Hill Temple and Krilas Hill Temple.

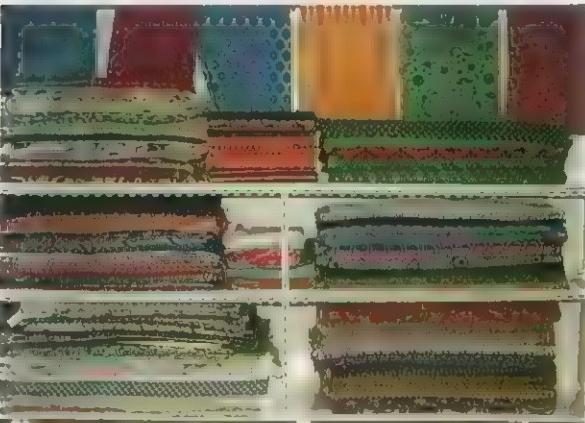

Hua Hin's soil rather dry out easily but Mother Nature is always kind. Pineapples, asparaguses, corns and sugar canes which require much sunlight and less water widely cultivated. Results can be seen in the markets where such inexpensive and delicious products never seem to be shortage.

However, Hua Hin is rich in the sea resources. Fresh and dry seafood here is famous to be fine and affordable as well as handmade souvenirs from the sea which are worth being decoration and gift items. Besides, Hua Hin's hand printed cotton called Khomapastr is unique and suitable for all occasions.

Nightlife in Hua Hin is quite different from other tourist hubs, some coffeeshops and a discoteque can be dropped in but the major nightlife attraction which has been widely visited and fond of by both Thais and foreigners is the night market on Dechanuchit Rd. The market represents a genuine Thai style of life, yet tourists can find very cheap but delicious local food, fruit, drinks, souvenirs or even clothes.

Accessibility in Hua Hin or to other tourist attractions is not difficult. Hua Hin has train, airconditioned and non airconditioned buses, local buses, minibuses, motorcycles, bicycles for rent and tricycles for hire. Consult Tourist Information Service Center on Phetkasem Rd. in the case of having any problems.

PA LA-U WATERFALL น้ำตกป่าละอู

On the west of Hua Hin lies the great Tanao Sri Range, the border line between Thailand and Burma. There, 63 kms. from the Gulf, Pa La-u, only unspoilt jungle of this old resort town in the area of 273,125 rai hides a beautiful twin waterfalls, La-u Yai and La-u Noi, combined to be called Pa La-u Waterfall.

Pa La-u is ■ part of Kang Krajarn National Park. Its outstanding points are the complete evergreen forest, wildlife, waterfalls, caves and authentic lifestyle of karen people.

Pa La-u Waterfall owns at least 9 cascades so it takes a few days to reach the top by trekking. An experienced guide, camping accessories are needed and contacting the sub forestry office at La-u Reservoir ■ a must. Anyway, for one day trip, can visit at least ■ few first cascades.

Besides, Pa La-u offers a genuine way of Karen life you can hardly experience especially in some festivals such as the Moon Festival which ■ organized after the harvest time to celebrate the products and to thank to the Moon God.

As ■ worthwhile compliment, on the route 3219, the same provincial highway to Pa La-u Waterfull, about 27 kms. from Hua Hin at Nongphlab Village, there are 3 attractive caves, Dao, Lablae, Kallon with stalactites and stalacmites you should not miss.

APPROPRIATE VISIT TIME :

November - April for the jungle and waterfall.

All year long for the ■ caves.

From Fa Prathan Village you have to walk to the sub forestry office, about 4 kms., or you may rent the same minibus as a taxi.

At the park check point, the national park entrance fee is ₧5.

From the sub, forestry office the first cascad, there is official transportation service (round trip) for ₧10

Renting a minibus from Hua Hin to the waterfall should be the most convenient way.

ACCOMMODATION: Tourists with their own tents have to pay ₧5 as the overnight fee in the national park.

Houses to rent will be available at the sub forestry office near La-u Reservoir very soon.

REMARKS: Trekking lovers who want to stay overnight in the national park should contact the sub-forestry office 7-10 days in advance at The Sub Forestry Office, Kang Krajarn National Park, Pa La-u Hua Hin, Prachaubkhirikhan 77110.

Mosquitoes and blood suckers are present and Malaria protection is needed.

DAO, LABLAE AND KAILON CAVES

ACCESS: Travelling from Hua Hin to Nongphlab Village for 27 kms. on the same route by the same minibus to Pa La-u can be done. The fare is ₧10. Dao Cave is about 500 ms., Lablae is about 2.5 kms. and Kailon is about 3.5 kms. from the main road. If you are not sure whether you can find the caves, the police at the Nongphlab Police Station very nearby are willing to help you.

KHAO SAM ROI YOD NATIONAL PARK

อุทยานแห่งชาติเข้าสามร้อยยอด

Khao Sam Roi Yod National Park, 63 kms. from Hua Hin consists of a series of magnificent limestone hills that rise dramatically from the sea and coastal marsh. The sheer slate grey hills are dotted with dwarf evergreen trees; valleys and gentle slopes are more densely forested. Most of the coastal flats lie outside the park and are used mainly for rice and prawn farming.

Wildlife : An outstanding feature of the park is its population of serow, a very rarely seen odd-looking goat antelope inhabiting the rugged hills. Crab-eating macaques and dusky langurs are frequently seen around headquarters. Shore birds are abundant during the cool season. Dolphins are common along the coast. Porcupines, leopards and barking deer also occur here.

Point of Interest : Phraya Nakhon Cave (พระยาณวี), accessible by foot or by boat, is a favourite destination for park visitors. The cave, located about 500 metres from the beach near Ban Bang Pu, contains two large sinkholes, the roofs having collapsed. The cave is named for Phraya Nakhon, a former ruler of Nakhon Si Thammarat who discovered it nearly 200 years ago after being forced ashore by a violent storm. A pavilion inside the cave was built for King Rama 5's visit in 1896 and was used by King Rama 7 and King Bhumiphol.

Sai Cave (สายไหม) and Kaeo Cave (แก้วแก่น) contain large stalactites, imposing domes and spectacular petrified waterfalls which have been formed by thousands of years of dripping water.

APPROPRIATE VISITING TIME:

OCTOBER - JUNE FOR SIGHTSEEING

NOVEMBER - JANUARY FOR BIRD WATCHING ACCESS :

Travelling from Hua Hin to Pranburi can be done by both airconditioned bus and nonairconditioned bus.

From Pranburi square near the market, regular public transportation is available :

Pranburi square	- Ban Bang Pu ₧15	08.00 - 15.00	Every 30 mins.
Ban Bang Pu	- Pranburi Square ₧10	05.00 - 13.00
Pranburi square	- Park Check point ₧10	08.00 - 15.00	}
Park check point	- Pranburi square ₧10	05.00 - 13.00	Pranburi - Headquarters = 20

From the park check point to the headquarters, tourists may rent the same minibus as a taxi, and pay about ₧50 more.

ACCOMMODATION :

฿ 40 for a tent (2 pax)

฿ 500 - 1,000 for a house (10-20 pax)

In the case the group of tourists is smaller than 10 persons;

room for rent is possible.

Remarks:

Contacting the headquarters first is highly recommended.

Sam Roi Yod National Park has many mosquitoes (but without Malaria) so mosquito coins and balm should be taken.

SIGHTSEEING IN PRACHUABKHIRIKHAN

About 289 kms. from Bangkok, Prachuabkhirikhan lies her long and narrow shape along 224.8 kms. of the Gulf of Thailand's west coast while Tanaosi Range, the border line between Thailand and Burma, is on her west.

Besides immortal Hua Hin, Prachuabkhirikhan possesses a wide range of attractive nature sites tourists should not miss.

Pranburi and Kuiburi : The Sam Roi Yod National Park is highly recommended for all nature lovers. Typical fishing villages, islands, beaches, cave with exotic limestones, mountains, authentic wild life and birds. Pranburi Forest Park, Pranburi Dam and Paknampran Beach are also major attractions.

Muang prachuab : Prachuabkhirikhan Bay Provides tourists the most fascinating sunrise scenery especially seen from Khao Chong Krachok Temple, the highest viewpoint in town. Phrathat-Khao Tham Kradai Temple and Wa Ko are very interesting for those interested in Thai history while Hin Thern Hill offers "rocks carried on the rocks" a wonderful product of nature.

Thab Sakae : Huai Yang Forest Park and Wanakorn Beach are outstanding.

Bang Saphan : Famous for the very best quality of gold. Bo Thong Lang Bay and Ma Rong Cave are also attractive.

Bang Saphan Nol : It's a must for fishing lovers especially around the area of Thalu Island.
